Aha! You're now logged in to the asylum's computer network. You navigate your way to the security system, and find the controls to disable the security cameras and unlock all of the doors.

By the sound of it, the staff are still busy restraining the patients in the lunch room, but you don't know how much longer you will have.

With nothing else for it, you try to use the security controls, but groan when the only result is the appearance of some riddle-like text and a prompt, waiting for your answer.

You went to the Olympics. People from all over the globe were there.
All the best athletes kept winning bronze in their events because they were sick the night before.

Q: So what made them sick?
